Alter runs record to 9-0

Ashley Christie leads the Knights past Carroll 48-39.

By Dave Long
Contributing Writer

RIVERSIDE — Ashley Christie was the starter and finisher for Alter during its 48-39 girls high school basketball win over Carroll on Wednesday, Jan. 6.

The 9-0 Knights' got off to an 11-0 lead with Christie, a 5-foot-7 senior, scoring all 11 points.

Carroll got within 32-29 late in the third quarter and Christie drained a 3-point shot to get it back to 35-29.

With the score 37-35 with 3:57 left, she drove the lane off a fastbreak, got the basket, was fouled and hit the free throw for a 40-35 lead.

When Carroll got within 40-37, she made a steal with 1:56 left and got a layup for a 42-37 game. On the ensuing possession, she got another steal. Teammate Megan Court

Rob Berry, "We needed to take care of the ball against their pressure and keep her from having a big night. Didn't do too well on either one."

Christie had a season-high 23 points. Alter's defense forced Carroll into 28 turnovers, 19 in the first half when it had leads as high as 14 points.

"I was more ready to play tonight than against Beavercreek (a 3-19 shooting night)," Christie said. "I don't play defense as well as some of the girls on our team," she said.

we can offer incentives to the builders to start the communities, and have mortgage companies lined up to offer home buying assistance. With very little out of pocket costs to the State, we can offer incentives to buy, especially to the deserving middle class of workers that make up the bulk of our population. Surely we can work with the builders to offer less expensive homes (then perhaps originally targeted) and have a win-win situation all the way around.

What is more vital to government than providing basic housing opportunities to its citizens? After all, Delaware's preamble mentions the acquiring of property as essential to the welfare of its residents. One housing crisis should not preclude us from this goal. Let's try to go back to basics and make this once again a priority.

In defense of WHYY

To: Editor
From: William J. Marrazzo, President and CEO, WHYY

(Editor's note: This letter comes in response to criticism of the public television, including a challenge to its FCC license by the City of Wilmington)

Recent (online) Delaware Business Ledger stories about WHYY clearly show the value of public service media in our region. I would like to clarify some key points. WHYY has no intention of leaving Wilmington. We have reporters, anchors, camera operators, producers and editors working daily at our Wilmington studio and are working with Mayor Baker and his staff to find a location in the city more suited to today's multimedia production needs.

Maintaining a newsroom in Delaware is not a requirement of our FCC license but rather a voluntary and important part of our strategy of serving Delaware's needs. In fact, we devote more time to Delaware than any other community we serve.

WHYY's ongoing transition from a traditional radio and television broadcaster has called for us to refocus our delivery of content to Delaware by using multiple media platforms. With three digital TV channels, we offer free over-the-air service throughout the state with education, information and arts programming. We produce First, a top-notch weekly news program dedicated to Delaware, broadcast Fridays at 5:30 p.m. with four rebroadcast times. We also offer recently expanded Delaware coverage on WHYY-FM and at WHYY.org, featuring multimedia news.

To ensure the vitality and viability of the enterprise, WHYY management recently reinvested resources from a legacy medium such as TV to a thriving, growing new media, the Web. It must also be noted that commercial and non-commercial TV news are losing revenue, with increasingly more people consuming news from the Web.

We are grateful for Delaware's $100,000 in appropriations for the 2010 fiscal year during these challenging economic times and thankful for the ongoing support of individual members and businesses. That support makes it possible for us to remain Delaware's only full-service television station.

Does It Work?

repaying $6.7 billion of that as a loan, with the rest to be repaid through a stock sale that came as early as later this year, Whittacre said.

Proof of profitability

GM had a "pretty arbitrary cutoff point" for shedding dealers, and it probably made mistakes getting rid of some of them, he said.

When pressed, Whittacre said "hundreds of dealers" may be closer to 100 than a thousand, but it's a "substantial number."

When the franchises were revoked last summer, GM said dealers were judged on whether they met sales goals, customer service scores, the condition of their buildings and other criteria. They were allowed to stay open through October this year to sell their inventories.

Local closings

Among the GM dealerships closing are Good Chevrolet Buick, 1250 W. Main St. in Lowell; Good GMC Isuzu, 4800 Clyde Park Ave. SW in Wyoming; and Crown Motors Inc., 196 Regent Blvd. in Holland.

Crown Motors continues to sell new Hondas and Mazdas at the location and also operates a dealership at 11260 Chicago Drive in Holland selling new Toyota, Volkswagen and Mitsubishi vehicles.

Another dealership, Fox Pontiac Buick GMC, 5977 Alpine Ave. NW in Alpine Township, got GM to reverse its decision to terminate its franchise.

Under pressure from dealer groups and lawmakers, GM and Chrysler put out proposals that would have allowed dealers to challenge closures in arbitration.

But legislation passed by Congress allows the dealers to pursue a much wider range of proof they are profitable.

Dealers have until Jan. 25 to tell the automakers if they will appeal.

More matters

Whittacre said he would consider Liddell, hired from the same post at Microsoft Corp., in the search for a new CEO. Liddell, 51, announced before GM hired him that he would leave Microsoft to pursue a higher-ranking position. He replaced Ray Young, who transferred to GM's China operations.

GM has hired a search committee to find candidates, but it has not presented any yet, Whittacre said.

He is not optimistic for a deal to sell Saab, but he expects the sale of Hummer to a Chinese heavy equipment maker to close Jan. 31. GM is phasing out Saab and expects to start closing plants this week.

"It's real easy. Just show up with the money and you can have it," he said of Saab. "Nobody's come with the money, so we're in the wind-down deal here."

— Associated Press writer Stephen Manning contributed to this report.

Stocks end flat on mixed reports

NEW YORK — Investors treaded water for a second day Wednesday as a batch of mixed economic reports and signs of division among Federal Reserve policymakers offered little new insight into the economy.

Stocks ended little changed, but modest gains pushed the Standard & Poor's 500 index to a new 15-month high. The cautious tone seen Tuesday and Wednesday continued in investors' view of the government's monthly employment report Friday.

The day's economic news wasn't enough to galvanize traders still trying to determine which direction the market will take in the early part of 2010.

Business in Brief

Some Federal Reserve officials conflicted on mortgage program

WASHINGTON — Some Federal Reserve policymakers last month were conflicted over whether to expand or cut back a program intended to drive down mortgage rates and bolster the housing market, according to a document released Wednesday.

Minutes of the Fed's closed-door meeting on Dec. 15-16 revealed that a "few members" thought that the Fed's $1.25 trillion program to buy mortgage securities from Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac might need to be expanded and extended beyond its current end date of March 31. Such an additional stimulus would be especially needed if the economic recovery were to weaken, they argued.

Service sector growing again, but hiring remains slow

NEW YORK — A gauge of the U.S. service sector returned to growth last month, aided by the holiday season's retail sales. The expansion reflected a slowly improving economy — but it was too slight to generate much hiring.

The Institute for Supply Management, a private trade group, said Wednesday its service index rose to 50.1 in December from 48.7 in November. A level above 50 signals growth.

Lockheed Martin to cut 1,200 jobs in combination of units

BETHESDA, Md. — Defense contractor Lockheed Martin said Wednesday it plans to cut 1,200 jobs to lower costs as it combines two units in its electronics systems business — the former Maritime Systems & Sensors business, based in Washington, D.C., and its Systems Integration unit in Owego, N.Y.

Orange juice prices rise

NEW YORK — Orange juice futures contracts reached their highest levels in two years Wednesday as a prolonged freeze in Florida endangers crop production.

"This is purely weather driven," said Richard Feltzer, director of commodity research at MF Global. Prices for frozen orange juice concentrate have risen sharply this week and went as high as $1.4965 per pound.

GM: 100s of dealerships could make comeback

By TOM KRISHER
 Associated Press

DETROIT — Hundreds of the 1,350 General Motors Co. dealers who lost their franchises last year could see them restored in a congressionally mandated arbitration process that begins later this month, the company's interim CEO said Wednesday.

CEO and Chairman Ed Whitacre Jr. also said that new Chief Financial Officer Chris Liddell is a candidate for the CEO post. And Whitacre said he's not confident about selling the Swedish Saab brand.

In a wide-ranging talk with reporters at GM's Detroit headquarters, Whitacre also predicted that the GM brand would be profitable this year although he said that was dependent on the economy and other factors.

The 1,350 dealerships, which were allowed to stay open until October 2010, were targeted as part of an effort to dump poor performers and better align its dealer base with much lower consumer demand for autos. In many cases, GM had dealerships to close to one another and competing on price, the company said.

Congress passed legislation last year that forces GM and Chrysler Corp., which shed 789 dealers last year to give dealers the right to appeal closure decisions. Both companies went through bankruptcy protection earlier this year and are receiving government aid.

Whitacre said GM had a "pretty arbitrary cutoff point" for shedding dealers, and that it probably made mistakes in getting rid of some of them.

When pressed, he said

"hundreds of dealers" may be closer to 100 than a thousand, but it's a "substantial number."

Restoring some dealerships could be good for the company because they would sell more cars for GM. But it also could be bad if a "tousy dealer" with a poor storefront got a franchise back, he said.

MANSFIELD — Kahl's Detailz has added new services and moved to the Carousel District.

John Miller Jr., of Mansfield, and John "P.J." Kahl, of Ontario, are expanding the business to include audio equipment, stereos, speakers, and bodywork neon lights, remote starters, bodykits, window tinting, upholstery and vehicle storage. The operation relocated Dec. 19 at the site of the former Ingram Oldsmobile dealership building at 71 N. Diamond St.

In July, the two men opened at the rear of 122 W. Fourth St. but outgrew the facility. Two additional owners have since joined Miller and Kahl, with the operations renamed Kahl's Detailz featuring Tybo Custom Audio and Fox Airbrushing.

Tyron Brown of Mansfield operates Tybo Custom Audio and Shane Fox of Ontario operates Fox Airbrushing.

Fox specializes in airbrushing vehicles, and he does window and signs for businesses.

The business provides free pickup and delivery of cars and trucks within five miles of the downtown square — enabling downtown customers to have their cars detail while they're at work.

This month the business is offering a hand car wash for $10.

This month the business is offering a hand car wash for $10.

Kahl said the spacious building allows the expanded staff to use two wash bays and two dry bays.

A car stereo room is being constructed inside the building.

The downtown merchants said they want to become a part of the community and plan to host a car show this year. They would like to reorganize the calendar and are organizing a cornhole tournament in conjunction with Goodfellow's.

Kahl said the new location has plenty of parking.

The shop is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Snowmobile ride to benefit Easter Seals

Easter Seals-Michigan announces the 23rd annual For Women Only Snowmobile Ride will be held at the Kewadin Resort and Casino in Sault Ste. Marie from Jan. 29-31.

Each participant raises $500 to help children and adults with disabilities.

These dedicated women raise funds throughout the year to meet their goals.

In the last 23 years, this event has raised more than $2 million for children and adults with disabilities or other special needs.

This event will include a meet-and-greet celebration on Friday night, and then a trek on the trails on Saturday in guided groups.

The riders will enjoy lunch at a local restaurant during the ride.

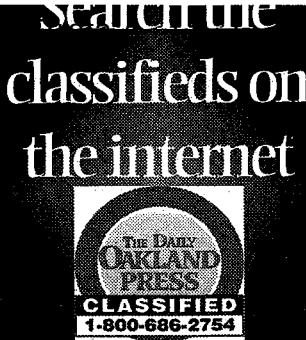

After the ride, the ladies will enjoy an evening of pampering and casino fun.

This event would not be possible without the support of its sponsors: Nelson's Speed Shop, Woody's and the Michigan Snowmobilers Association.

If you would like to learn more about the For Women Only Snowmobile Ride, support one of the riders or donate to the event, visit www.essmichigan.org or contact event manager Libby Collins via e-mail at ecollins@essmichigan.org.
